

Using Commas with Adjectives

Use a comma between consecutive coordinate adjectives. Don't use a comma between cumulative adjectives.

Coordinate adjectives modify a noun equally and separately. When coordinate, each adjective modifies the same noun separately and equally. The word "and" could join each adjective. They make sense if rearranged.

Examples

1. Kerry believed in luxurious, unrestrained growth.
2. The spoiled, fat cats found the garden full of cool, dark shadows.
3. Across the fence, Mr. Schaeffer viewed a wild, overgrown, unruly yard.

Cumulative adjectives build upon one another and should not be separated with commas. If you reorder cumulative adjectives, the result will not read smoothly.

Examples

1. The two tall women were fishing.
2. They had high expectations for the nearby older Irish couple.
3. Their tasteful ten-foot rods promised success.

Sample Sentences

Appropriately punctuate the adjectives italicized below.

1. Kate was a brave honest and wise woman.
2. Arnon, with his expensive red sneakers, walked to Kate's humble home.

using commas with adjectives

3. At the doorstep, they started a colorful in-depth discussion about toads.
4. Arnon had not seen many large toads that year.
5. Kate had seen several smallish tree toads earlier that day.
6. Kate's graceless overbearing brother interrupted the two young friend's discussion.
7. "You guys know where the great big barking pig has got to?"
8. A wondrous outrageous pig of that description lived on the old decrepit farm across the creek.
9. Arnon had seen the pig down in the lush green meadow close by the favorite spot for toads.
10. Kate wondered whether the aggressive overgrown pig had made a tasty quick treat of the toads.